Maintain plainness, embrace simplicity, reduce selfishness, and have few desires. Lao Tzu

KEEPING LENT - Self-examination is the practice of reflection on how you are living. It needs to be a daily habit, pausing at the end of the day to examine your attitudes, words, actions, and relationships - your positive and negative experiences. Was your day pleasing to God? How do you need to change and to grow? Blessed are the humble, those who make no claims for themselves but uphold the rights of others. Because they renounce everything (no longer living for themselves) they will receive all they need.

HONOURARY PLACEMENT – Enid Haines – gone but not forgotten!! The folks of our Tea Room Team have continued to honour Enid by prominently hanging her trademark “Queen of the Kitchen” apron from the ceiling over their corner table where they shared so many laughs and meals together. Not far from it also hangs her favourite piece of nature, a cardinal, still watching over them all as they carry out this wonderful ministry of fellowship.
