What if God is already preparing the next person you are meant to meet?

This October, at the invitation of our Bishop and our Canon for Evangelism and Witness, Michael Harvey will be visiting our Diocese to explore a simple but potentially life-changing question: “Lord, today, is there someone you want me to connect with outside the church?”

What happens when we stop seeing people as projects and start seeing them as people God may already be drawing towards himself?

Come and discover ACORN - a simple rhythm of prayer, noticing, listening and responding that can help ordinary Christians become more attentive to the people God places in their path.

Whether you are clergy or lay, and wondering how to connect faith with everyday life, come and join the conversation. You may leave with more than ideas. You may leave wondering: “Who is God asking me to notice?”

Michael is from Manchester, UK, and is a member of the Archbishop of Canterbury’s College of Evangelists. Some of you may know that he was one of the creators of ‘Back to Church Sunday’ which launched in 2004.

He will be presenting at the Parish Hall at St. Peter’s Upper Gullies on Saturday, October 3rd from 10:00am to noon. Registration is not required. Just come along and catch the excitement of the ACORN prayer.
